F. D. SAMPSON, JUDGE 34th JUDICIAL DISTRICT

JUDGE F. D. SAMPSON FOR RE-ELECTION

Announcement has Been Expected. He is the Only
Entry in the Race and Will Have no
Opposition

In the proper column of this issue will be found the official announcement of Hon. F. D. Sampson for Circuit Judge of the Thirty-fourth Judicial District, composed of the Counties of Knox, Whitley and McCreary. This has been anticipated for some time, and at a Mass Meeting of the citizens of this County held recently at the Court House in Barbourville, he was unanimously endorsed and resolutions were adopted, asking him to declare himself a candidate for re-election. To the people of this District his announcement will be gratifying.

The demand for determined, capable and impartial Judiciary is nation wide, and in Judge Sampson this is fulfilled. The past record of Judge Sampson as Circuit Judge details a story of achievement and recites a record of things done. He has the best record of any Circuit Judge in Kentucky, for the trial and disposition of cases. His record will prove that he has tried twice as many cases as any other Circuit Judge in the State. He stands for the enforcement of the law, preservation of peace and good order, clean elections, the riddance of whiskey and "bootleggers", and a square deal for every man.

Miss Black Entertains

The guest were Mesdames C. A. Foster, J. S. Miller, Elizabeth Archibold, Ella Black, B. C. Lewis, Hiram Owens, Sam Davidson; Misses Flora Herndon, Willie Prater, Nettie Caeal, Myrtle Cole and Ella Smith.

Gives Dinner in Honor of Brother

Mrs. C. N. Sampson entertained Wednesday evening with a six o'clock dinner at the Luncheonette in honor of her brother, Rev. Fred Kelley, and family, of Russell, Ky. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kelley, Mr. Sam Kelley and Miss Dorothy Kelley, of Etawa, Tenn. Prof. Ricketts and Miss Weeks, of U. C. Faculty, Rev. Overley, Carl Haggard, Mrs. C. N. Sampson and two daughters, Misses Dowls and Anna Maud.

DEATHS.

COYT

On Sunday evening May 23 1915, at six o'clock, the death Angel called for one of our oldest and best citizens, in the person of Dr. C. S. Coyt, he has suffered for many months, not being able to do much work or to be out on the streets.

Dr. Coyt, came to Barbourville in the year 1880, and practiced the profession of dentistry until his health became so bad that he had to give it up; he was born in Portage County Ohio, November 4th 1839, being 75 years old at the time of his death. He was a member of the Christian church, having united with that church in the State of his Nativity. Dr. Coyt realizing that death was near, made all preparations for his funeral Thursday before his death on Sunday, and left the testimony that he was ready for the journey across the Jordan into the promised land.

He leaves a wife, one son and one daughter, and a host of friends to mourn their loss.

BURCH

On Wednesday morning May 26 about 8 o'clock, the death angel visited the home of Rev. W. H. Burch and called him to his final reward. Mr. Burch was one of our oldest citizens and for many years was a Minister of the gospel of the Baptist church.

He was also an old Union soldier. Mr. Burch has been a resident of this city for several years.

The remains were taken to his old home place on Brush Creek for burial.

Mr. Burch leaves a host of relatives and friends to mourn their loss, but according to his profession, their loss is his eternal gain.

Costellow Drug Co. have made arrangements to dispose of all old hot water bottles and Fountain Syringes no matter in what condition, and will allow you 50c for your old one as part payment for a new one.

Odd Bits of News

Philadelphia, Pa.—Old Dr. Stork is doing his best to maintain his average at the home of Michael Kline. Five years ago he left at the Kline home a tiny girl that weighed but 1½ pounds at birth. Last week the Klines became the proud parents of another child, this time a boy weighing 23 pounds. Both children are thriving and the Klines can now boast the smallest and the fattest baby in a great state.

Pottstown, Pa.—Irvin Hillebeitel has filed a claim of $400 against the estate of the late Mary E. Fritz for services in nursing her during her last illness. Inasmuch as Irvin was engaged to Mrs. Fritz the executors of her estate refuse to pay on the ground that his services were contributed as a labor of love.

Washington, D. C.—W. J. Bryan is against voting on prohibition in 1916, and "predicts that neither the Republican nor Democratic parties will put a prohibition plank in their platforms, although he wants it to be known as a dry party. He believes that the other issues will out-rival prohibition at that election. Personally he would like that plank inserted, but does not believe that it is possible to do so.

"THE RIGHT MAN" WRITES A LETTER

Says His, Not Parker's, Election is Certain

Corbin, Ky., May 20, 1915. To the Voters of Whitley and Knox:

My attention has been called to the headline in the Advocate which appeared last week, which reads, "Parker's Re-election Certain". Now, what prompted Mr. Parker to say that his re-election is certain, no one knows, and he gives no reason other than he made a speech at Williamsburg on Monday, the first day of Court. Mr. Parker says that "W. F. Parker, W. C. Black and others" addressed the voters etc., placing his name first, and failing entirely to recognize Mr. Dyer, Mr. Bays, and a score of candidates for Circuit Court Clerk, who made their announcements on that day, including myself, who made the second address or rather an announcement following Mr. Bays. I was followed by Mr. Parker. We had each of us five minutes time and any reader can readily imagine the "Address" Mr. Parker made in that five minutes.

I wish to say that I was there all day with two of the best helpers obtainable, and I found encouragement beyond my expectation. I not only found men for me, but enthusiastic, and are working from thence to the election. I must say that I was myself surprised at the most favorable expressions I received there that day.

Mr. Parker came to Corbin and I suppose that he is yet trying to electioneer, for the day after he was here seven different men came to me and said they had seen my friend Parker, but that they, each of them, did not hesitate to tell him that they must be for the "Right Man", the Home Man, Mr. Price.

Yes, Mr. Parker's election is certain,—just as certain as the sun shines (of a night), I feel that four to one will be under what I will poll over my opponent in August.

I again thank the people for the loyal support that I am assured you are going to give me, and beg to remain your friend,

Jas. J. Price

Blundering Democrats

Washington, D. C., May 27. A typical example of inexcusable blundering by Congress in the enactment of a statute has been argued recently before the Court of Customs Appeals. The court is asked to interpret the meaning of paragraph 408 of the Underwood tariff act, the first important law of the present administration.

The paragraph provides free entry for "waste" of any of the articles therein described "Suitable" for the manufacture of paper. Careless use of the word "suitable" in drafting the law plunged it into uncertainty, for it admits a wide latitude of construction. Will free entry be given to anything that MIGHT be used in paper making; or must waste be used ONLY in paper making in order to enter free of duty? Already two opposing constructions have been placed upon the statute, one by customs officials who imposed a tax, another by the Board of U. S. General Appraisers who allowed free entry. Now the higher court is appealed to for a third opinion as to intent of the law makers.

The blunder is more notable because the language of former tariff acts was an ample guide, clearly emphasizing the need for unequivocal diction. The act of 1897 provided free entry for waste "FIT ONLY" to be converted into paper.

The corresponding paragraph in the 1909 act extended free entry to waste "USED CHIEFLY for paper making.

With these provisions in the old law, it seems as though intelligent revision would have been simplicity itself. But with their fatal gift of blundering the Democrats seized upon and inserted "SUITABLE" in the law, the one word that either customs officials, lawyers or business men affected could understand, and which rendered imperative the litigation now in the courts before the statute can be fully enforced.

Judges, Mayors and Prominent Business Men Try Premier Preparation

Lexington Ky., May 27—"I have sold Tanlac since the beginning of its introduction in Lexington, to the Mayors of a number of cities, County Judges, Circuit Judges, and to many of the most prominent business men and professional men in Kentucky," said Wm. E. Stagg, the Lexington druggist.

"The demand for the preparation has been phenomenal. In all of my twenty years' experience in the drug business I have never seen anything to equal it."

"In addition to the Lexington demand, Tanlac has been shipped from my store to Kansas City, Mo.; Colorado Springs Colo.; Memphis, Tenn.; Meridian, Miss.; Bonnulla, Fla.; Louisville, Ky.; Tiffin, Ohio; Cincinnati Ohio; Columbia, Tenn.; Palm Beach, Fla.; Phoenix, Ariz.; Los Angeles, Cal. and many other points too numerous to mention. You may rest assured that every city in Kentucky also has heard of Tanlac. "I can only account for the great demand for this preparation by the fact that it is a good medicine. That is proved by the numerous statements from those who have tested the medicine and are now convinced of its excellent merits. The public has evidently not been slow to appreciate the Tanlac merit."

"Practically $20,000.00 worth of Tanlac has been sold and distributed through my store within the past few weeks. Such a demand is most certainly unprecedented."

"My associations with Mr. Cooper and the agency for Tanlac has been very pleasant. I therefore take pleasure in commending Mr. Cooper and his very excellent preparation."

BABY MUST SEE FOR THE WHOLE FAMILY

Father, Mother and Two Other Children Are Blind.—Mother's Prayer Answered at Birth of Last Child.

Colorado Springs, Col.—In a little home at Lake George, 25 miles from here, there is a baby boy who, when he grows up, will be able to tell his father, his mother and a brother and sister of the beauties of the mountain region in which they live, but which have been shut out to them throughout their lives.

This baby, the pride and wonder of the entire district, possesses the blessing of sight, denied other members of the family. The baby's father is Benjamin Richards. He is blind. The little mother, now the happiest woman in all Colorado, was Miss Myrtle Higby. She was born blind. She was a student in state school for the blind and while there met Richards. His sight had been destroyed by an accident.

Drawn together by their affliction, which sent them through the world in darkness, Richard and the little blind girl were married. Five years ago a baby girl was born. Anxiously they waited for the word that would tell them whether the innocent newcomer had also entered the world in darkness. Their hearts were torn when they were told the baby girl would never see. Three years later a baby boy arrived and he, too, had been denied the gift of sight.

Two years passed. A little girl, now 5 years old, played in a world of darkness about her mother, who had also never seen the light of day. A little boy groped about the floor. It was a home of darkness. Neighbors told the mother that her little ones were pretty children, and she smiled and coddled the little hands and faces she could not see.

Time went on. The mother knew that the stork would soon hover over the home again. She knew that he was about to bring another baby soul into the world and the mother prayed that this innocent might be spared the blight of eternal darkness. The mother was cheerful and hopeful, but when the time came for the father to summon the village doctor his heart fairly stood still. The doctor could only tell them that he hoped, but there was pre-natal influence to be overcome.

Waiting with the mountain friends was the sightless father and the children of night. The doctor came from the room. His face was wreathed in smiles. He grasped father Richards by the hand.

"A boy; seven and one-half pounds—and perfect eyes. He sees," the big man told the father even as he himself was almost overcome with emotion.

There were tears of joy in the Richards home that day. Though they did not know just why, the childish laugh of the little ones of darkness carried a new note of cheer and hope.

FARMER ATTACKED BY BIG COW-EATING BEAR

Bruin Is Getting Away With a Calf When Discovered.—Chases Two Into Trees.

Newark, N. J.—According to information brought by courier from Montague an outpost in the wilds of Sussex County, New Jersey, that section is being ravaged by hungry cow-eating black bears, who are not above taking a chance on a well fed farmer. Yesterday, so 'tis said, a big and unusually woolly bear chased "Bill" Cummings, a well known settler, up a tree, after he got tired of having "Bill" chase him.

An armed force of neighbors shoed the bear away and helped "Bill" out of the tree, where he told of a wild chase through the underbrush. The bear in question, probably the most impolite and daring ever seen about Montague, is reported to have waddled into the corral of Charles Jennings, where it fastened its teeth in a calf. Mr. Cummings on his way to Jennings' home saw the theft and yelled "Shoo there, boss," with little or no effect.

Enraged at this he gave chase to the bear, which fled still clinging to the calf. After a wild chase through the dense forests which litter Sussex county, particularly the curb lines, the bear lost his temper and the calf at the same time and turned irritably toward his pursuer. Mr. Cummings noting the angry expression in the bear's eye hurried to the nearest giant of the forest and crawled to the highest branch, while the bear escaped.

GIRLS SEEK HUSBANDS IN DEATH VALLEY

"Adamless Eves" Flood Mining Camps With Love Letters to Bachelors.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Death Valley, recently placed on the social map by a dance to which girls from hundreds of miles distant were invited and provided with transportation by the bachelor lads of the mining camps, is about to be transformed from an Eveless Eden into an Eden densely populated with femininity.

Following Death Valley's great ball, the long trips of the girls to Oakland, and the importation of music from Los Angeles, a deluge of letters from Adamless Eves has descended on the mining camps.

Robert M. Pease, who arranged the ball, is being swamped with letters from women who want to move to Death Valley. Pease writes:

"Behold, I am being deluged with a hopeless mass of communications from all 'Adamless Eves' in Christendom. I am receiving pounds of pressed roses and violets; I am receiving offers to mend my socks, to sew my buttons and to cook for me. Requests for programs and requests for photographs, and, yes, even requests for transportation."

WARREN VS ARTEMUS

Last Saturday the Warren Baseball team accompanied by a big crowd of rooters went to Artemus and played the Artemus aggregation, the first whack Warren has had at them this season and at the close of the session the score was 16 to 1 in favor of Warren. Artemus never had a chance from the start and they were lucky to get one score which came in the ninth on two clean hits, a three batter by McDonald and Cox's single. Dixon was on the mound for Warren and had everything. Warren started scoring in the first inning and before the smoke flew over they had crossed the home plate eight times which was enough to kill the hope of the loyal Artemus fans.

Artemus has a lovely looking bunch of players and they should be entered in some beauty contest, but somebody fabricated when they said they could play ball. The home run of big Bill Dixon was a feature and the all around batting of the entire Warren team took the crowd off their feet. Artemus and Warren will play again on the Warren diamond Saturday afternoon and no doubt a large crowd from Artemus will see the game.
